

A seamless transition from Job Science to Bullhorn: Bullhorn implementation

What was the project that you worked with Kyloe on?

Kyloe worked with Maxwell Recruitment to transition from Job Science to Bullhorn. It was a daunting process made easy by Kyloe. The structured approach and professional guidance from the project team was phenomenal.

"If you're about to transition to Bullhorn, Kyloe is a no brainer"

How did Kyloe help you?

Kyloe drove our transition. We felt in safe hands from the moment we met the team. They had a really good knowledge of Bullhorn and provided invaluable direction to ensure we built a very efficient process. The ATS testing process was smooth and we had the ability to mould it to suit our needs.

How did the project go?

The project was seamless. Our team took on the training and barely had any questions or follow ups. Whenever we found an issue, Kyloe had a team working in the background to ensure it was fixed or provided a suitable work around.

"Kyloe know the Bullhorn product and process inside and out"

How has it impacted your business?

It has been a big change. We were fortunate to be going through a quieter time, which allowed additional focus hours. Overall, it has been a positive change and the team are now in full flight - not even checking the old system!

"If you're about to transition to Bullhorn, Kyloe is a no brainer. They have been professional, supportive, understanding and open to our ideas and business needs. Kyloe know the Bullhorn product and process inside and out, providing great insights all the way to ensure we get the best possible outcome. The investment is worth the money and time you'll save in the long run."
